The Viper's Idyll. Entire contents © 2017 by S.K. Deitch. Mr. Deitch does not endorse the use of dangerous mind altering substances save for on those occasions when they might do some good not only for ones self, but for those who must endure one's company which becomes ever so much more pleasant when one has shed a layer of civilization in favor of some more primordial humanity. You know what I'm talking about (wink). Ahem....ANYWAY this is a publication of XENOLITE PRESS xenolite@skdeitch.com 71 Spring street, Watertown, MA 02472 Address any complaints you may have to your congressman, because, fuck, it's not like I made you read this damned thing. Just deal, OK? This book is dedicated to the wisdom of the voters of the state of Massachusetts.

I HAVE TRAVELED ON SEA AND THE LAND,
I HAVE SOAKED IN WATER AND CHOKED ON THE SAND,
I HAVE VISITED PALACES, TAVERNS AND TOWNS,
YES I HAVE VENTURED THE WHOLE GREAT WORLD ROUND!
I HAVE BEHELD SIGHTS, IMPOSSIBLY GRAND
BUT THERE IS ONE WONDER THAT ABOVE OTHERS STAND!

SHOULD PROVIDENCE GRANT ME ONE THOUSAND YEARS
TO LOVE AND TO BATTLE, HAVE LAUGHTER AND TEARS,
TO WANDER THE WORLD AND SEE WHAT'S TO BE SEEN THROUGH JUNGLE AND OCEAN WHERE NO ONE HAS BEEN
TO MEET HOLY MEN, BECOME TERRIBLY WISE
STILL NO FINER SIGHT SHALL E'ER MEET MY EYES!

LADIES' BOTTOMS! OH LADIES' BOTTOMS!
THERE IS NO THING FINER THAN LADIES' BOTTOMS!
SHOULD I BECOME RICH, OR I SHOULD STAY POOR,
SIT ON A THRONE OR SQUAT ON THE FLOOR,
THERE IS ONE SONG THAT I ALWAYS SHALL SING,
THAT A LADY'S BOTTOM IS LIFE'S FINEST THING!

LADIES' BOTTOMS! OH LADIES' BOTTOMS!

Do what makes you happy!
